5 UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
6 WESTERN DISTRICT OF WASHINGTON
7 AT SEATTLE

8 MARTA D. LYALL,

9 Petitioner,

10 v.

11 FEDERAL BUREAU OF
12 INVESTIGATION,

13 Respondent.

CASE NO. C15-1818RSL

ORDER ON REVIEW OF
REFUSAL TO RECUSE

14 This matter comes before the Court on Petitioner's motion for voluntary dismissal, which 15 included allegations that the Honorable Robert S. Lasnik, Senior United States District Judge, 16 could not be impartial in presiding over the matter. Dkts. #36 and #39. Out of an abundance of 17 caution, Judge Lasnik reviewed the motion as one including a request to recuse himself. Judge
18 Lasnik declined to recuse himself, and stated that he was inclined not to dismiss the action and 19 resolve a pending motion on the merits. Dkt. #39. In accordance with the Local Rules of this
20 District, Petitioner's motion then was referred to the Undersigned for a review of Judge Lasnik's 21 Order. LCR 3(e).

22 Petitioner filed her Complaint on December 2, 2015. Dkt. #6. In that Complaint she names
23 the Federal Bureau of Investigation as the Defendant, and alleges that she is a documentary 24 filmmaker working on an investigative documentary about Carl L. Harp, a public figure who was

1 apparently murdered in prison in 1981. Dkt. #6 at ¶ 4. She asserts that she is completing the 2 investigative project which was started by her father prior to his death in 1975. Dkt. #6 at ¶ 4.
3 Petitioner appears to believe that Mr. Harp was involved in undercover operations for the federal
4 government, and that her father died under suspicious circumstances after investigating Mr. Harp's
5 life story. Id. at ¶¶ 6-34. As part of her own continuing project, she has apparently made several
6 requests to Defendant under the federal Freedom of Information Act ("FOIA") for documents
7 related to Mr. Harp and her father, which have gone unanswered. Id. at ¶¶ 35-47. As a result, she 8 has brought this action for violations of FOIA. Id. at ¶¶ 48-53.

9 Since filing the Complaint, this matter has proceeded through litigation for nearly two 10 years. Defendant filed an Answer to the Complaint, followed by a Motion to Dismiss which is 11 currently pending. Dkts. #12 and #29. Petitioner initially requested an extension of time to 12 respond to the motion, but then filed her own motion for voluntary dismissal, which is the subject
13 of this Order. Dkt. #36. In that motion, Petitioner stated as follows:

15 At the Status conference the court stated that the defendant's attorney was 16 above reproach, merely because of his job title and the courts [sic] familiarity 17 with him. The court also stated the Petitioner was not above reproach because of her position on the Harp case, which showed she had "different thinking" than the "rest of us".

18 2.

19 The court stated it was supportive and had a history of familiarity or 20 friendship with Mark Ericks, who was the initial arresting officer in the Harp case.

1 For the reasons above, the Petitioner feels there is little chance the court
2 would be able to be unbiased regarding this case, and the Petitioner's
3 argument would be useless. The Petitioner was also too intimidated by the 4 courts statements to her during the status conference to feel confident enough
5 to pursue her rights. The Petitioner's capacity to pursue her rights were 6 further hindered by her fall.

7 For these reasons the Petitioner asks the court to dismiss the case without 8 prejudice, so that the Petitioner can pursue her rights in this case at a later
9 date, with a different Judge who is not friends with parties who oppose the 10 Petitioner's film project on Carl Harp, her father's work, (which questioned 11 Harp's investigation), and her whistle-blowing complaint at Carnegie Mellon 12 University, when she was a professor and had an interaction with the FBI.

13 Dkt. #36.

14 Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 455(a), a judge of the United States shall disqualify himself in any 15 proceeding in which his impartiality "might reasonably be questioned." Federal judges also shall 16 disqualify themselves in circumstances where they have a personal bias or prejudice concerning a
17 party or personal knowledge of disputed evidentiary facts concerning the proceeding. 28 U.S.C.
18 § 455(b)(1).

19 Under both 28 U.S.C. §144 and 28 U.S.C. § 455, recusal of a federal judge is appropriate
20 if "a reasonable person with knowledge of all the facts would conclude that the judge's impartiality
21 might reasonably be questioned." Yagman v. Republic Insurance, 987 F.2d 622, 626 (9th 22 Cir.1993). This is an objective inquiry concerned with whether there is the appearance of bias, not 23 whether there is bias in fact. Preston v. United States, 923 F.2d 731, 734 (9th Cir.1992); United
24 States v. Conforte, 624 F.2d 869, 881 (9th Cir.1980). In Liteky v. United States, 510 U.S. 540
(1994), the United States Supreme Court further explained the narrow basis for recusal:

[J]udicial rulings alone almost never constitute a valid basis for a bias or partiality motion. . . . [O]pinions formed by the judge on the basis of facts introduced or events occurring in the course of the current proceedings, or of prior proceedings, do not constitute a basis for a bias or partiality motion unless they display a deep seated favoritism or antagonism that would make fair judgment impossible. Thus, judicial remarks during the course of a trial

1 that are critical or disapproving of, or even hostile to, counsel, the parties, or 2 their cases, ordinarily do not support a bias or partiality challenge.

3 Id. at 555.

4 Petitioner cites no evidence in support of her allegation that Judge Lasnik cannot be 5 impartial in this matter. She merely asserts that his alleged “friendship” with defense counsel and 6 a defense witness somehow makes him hostile toward her. While she states that she was 7 “intimidated” during a status conference, she provides no specifics. This is insufficient to 8 demonstrate bias on the part of Judge Lasnik.

9 Accordingly, the Court finds no evidence upon which to reasonably question Judge
10 Lasnik’s impartiality and, to the extent that she seeks his recusal from her case through her motion
11 for voluntary dismissal, AFFIRMS his denial of Petitioner’s request that he recuse himself.

12 The Clerk SHALL provide copies of this order to Judge Lasnik, Petitioner and to all 13 counsel of record.

14 DATED this 15 day of November, 2017.
